Course Description

Senior Design Project I and II is a two-course sequence, which together form a single yearlong capstone team design project to be taken during the last two semesters of the EE, CE or CS degree program. All students in the course must have had a senior check. The project provides a multi-disciplinary team a realistic open-ended design experience. The technical aspect of the project must generally include areas within electrical, computer engineering, and computer science.

The goal of the project should be to develop a product that meets the needs, specifications, and end user requirements to solve a technical issue. Extra credit will be given to groups that deliver a prototype of their product that is put into service.

Measurable Student Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, undergraduate students will be able to (1 – 6):

- (1) Analyze a complex computing problem and to apply principles of computing and other relevant disciplines to identify solutions
- (2) Design, implement, and evaluate a computing-based solution to meet a given set of computing requirements in the context of the program's discipline
- (3) Communicate effectively in a variety of professional contexts
- (4) Recognize professional responsibilities and make informed judgments in computing practice based on legal and ethical principles
- (5) Function effectively as a member or leader of a team engaged in activities appropriate to the program's discipline

(6) Apply computer science theory and software development fundamentals to produce computing-based solutions

This course is for undergraduate students only.

Academic Integrity and Artificial Intelligence Policy

Students at Wichita State University are expected to uphold high academic standards. WSU will not tolerate a lack of academic integrity. Students are responsible for knowing and following the Student Academic Integrity Policy 2.17. link

When the faculty member determines sanctions are warranted for violations of academic integrity, regardless of severity, the faculty member must report the infraction to the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards. More information about the process can be found at Academic Integrity Processes and Procedures. link

Students are encouraged to use generative tools to learn the course subjects. However, they should not copy the AI-generated results and claim them as their own work. Any student suspected of unauthorized use of generative AI may be asked to demonstrate their mastery of the assignment learning outcomes in an alternate format, such as a verbal interview or an additional problem set, before a determination is made as to whether an academic integrity violation report is warranted.

A violation of academic integrity in homework will result in a zero score.

A violation in an exam or project will result in an F grade in the course.

How to Use This Syllabus

This syllabus provides you with information specific to this course, and it also provides information about important university policies. This document should be viewed as a course overview; it is not a contract and is subject to change as the semester evolves.

Student Office Hours

My student office hours are listed on page one of the course syllabus. Please utilize this time to meet with me for course-related discussions: asking for extra help, seeking further clarification of material presented in class, and follow up on aspects of the class they are interested in. These hours are not required for the course, but are available to help support you on your path to success.

Definition of a Credit Hour

Success in this 3 credit hour course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction and preparation/studying or course related activities for a total of 135 hours.

Class Protocol and Conduct

This is a university course with commensurate expectations. We expect professional conduct in the classroom. Unprofessional conduct, e.g. off topic activities, may affect your grade or even your academic career. Be respectful at all times. Students demonstrating confrontational, disruptive, or threatening behavior may be asked to leave the classroom immediately and may not be allowed to return to the classroom for the remainder of the class period. Consequences of this behavior may also include (and are not limited to): Suspension from class for a minimum of one additional class period and report or referral to the WSU police department, Student Conduct and the WSU Care Team.

(For any online parts of the course)

Participation of the course's online parts, if any, is crucial. "Participation" involves reading the assignments thoroughly, reading any handouts provided for the week, watching all videos (including update videos I add throughout the semester), contributing to class discussions, and completing online assignments. To be successful in this class, you should be checking your student email daily and logging in to our course at least 3 times a week.

Sexual Harassment, Discrimination and Retaliation

Wichita State University is committed to creating a safe and healthy environment for all of our community members. This includes the elimination of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, and stalking within the University community. These incidents may interfere with or limit an individual's ability to benefit from or fully participate in the University's educational programs.

Students are asked to immediately report incidents to the University Police Department, (316) 978-3450 or students may contact the Title IX Coordinator at (316) 978-5177 or submit a report to the Office of Civil Rights, Title IX & ADA Compliance.

Students may also report incidents to an instructor, faculty or staff member, who are required by law to notify the Title IX Coordinator. If a student wishes to keep the information confidential, the student may speak with staff members of the Counseling and Psychological Services (316) 978-3440 or Student Health Services (316) 978-3620.

Sexual assault prevention training is required of all students, faculty and staff. These trainings, in addition to being highly interactive and engaging, are based in research around the best practices for healthy communities. Students will need to complete this training in the fall semester before being able to enroll for the spring.

Students with Disabilities

A disability is something that affects a major life activity. These life activities include but are not limited to, learning, walking, breathing, hearing, and seeing, in addition to many other physical, sensory functions, and psychological disabilities.

If you are a student with a disability or believe you might have a disability, which requires accommodations, please contact the Office of Student Accommodations and Testing (OSAT) at link to discuss reasonable and appropriate accommodations and eligibility requirements. It is the University's goal that learning experiences be as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience physical or academic barriers based on disability OSAT will review your concerns and determine, with you, what academic accommodations are necessary and appropriate for you. For example, adaptations of teaching methods, class materials or testing may be made on a case-by-case basis if warranted, as required by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). All information and documentation of your disability is confidential and will not be released by OSAT without your written permission.

The Office of Student Accommodations and Testing (OSAT) is located in the Shocker Success Center, room 118, (316) 978-3309 (voice/tty) (316-854-3032 videophone). Students seeking an accommodation must complete the application at OSAT's website.
